"HIT FIRST AND TALK AFTER"

That's to be Keenan's Policy In U. S. War On Kidnapers

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 20—The federal government is going to go after kidnapers first and ask questions afterward.

Until this assertion came today from Joseph B. Keenan, assistant attorney general heading the antiracketeer move, there had been some doubt. Belief had been expressed that the federal government could take no part in a kidnapping unless in some way or another it crossed state lines or violated specific federal statutes.

But this was Keenan's answer
today to a question about that:
"We don't know whether a kidnaping case comes under federal jurisdiction until we have found the man."

"We are going after them. We will find out after we have found our men, with the aid of state authorities, if it is a federal or a state case."

PHILADELPHIA, July 20—Victim of two assailants who took him as second choice in an attempted kidnaping, Frank A. McClatchy, wealthy real estate operator, lay near death today with a bullet wound through the chest.

Gambling with his life by putting up a determined battle after the men had informed him he was being kidnapped, McClatchy, 56, was shot down in a sample house in lower Merion, where he had been lured.

Police said the would-be abductors originally intended to kidnap and demand ransom from his brother, John H. McClatchy, 58, millionaire real estate man.

REPORT RELIEF WORKERS WANT HIGHER WAGES

Service Director Clyde
Reich Declares Group
Is On Strike

ASK 35-CENT RATE BE BOOSTED TO 45

Men, When Employed By City, Receive Credit
On Supplies

Demanding an increase of 10 cents an hour, Salem's unemployed, who have been requested to work out their relief as members of the city's street labor gang, today are reported by Service Director Clyde Reich to have gone on a strike.

Reich announced that as a result of their refusal to work for the city, names of more than 75 men will be stricken from the relief rolls.

25 Cents Is Rate Set Twenty-five of the men are workers at the community garden, Hawley ave. They were asked Tuesday to report for work on streets, sewers and gutters, at the rate of 35 cents an hour set for street laborers in city ordinances.

Only three of the men called to work by Reich reported for duty today, the service director reported, the others stating that they would not work for the city until the 10 per cent wage increase is granted them. The men returned to work at the Hawley ave. garden, Reich said, but definitely refused to accept municipal jobs.

Following their refusal to work
the service director summoned 62
other men on the relief list for street work but they too are reported by Reich to have been enrolled in the strike.

Cite 45-Cent Rate
The men base their request for a 45-cent-an-hour wage on the fact that that wage is paid to regular members of the service department gangs. Reich points out that city ordinances stipulate, however, that 35 cents an hour be paid for new laborers entering the force, and the service director says he has no power to grant the unemployed their request.

Names of all men who are participating in the strike and those who are working at the community garden but refused to work for the city have been turned over to Mrs. Myra Woodruff of the Red Cross and to Mrs. Stella Walton and Mrs. James Hill, recently recommended by city council to take charge of municipal unemployment relief investigation.

The men, when employed by the city, do not receive actual cash in return for their labor but are given credit for groceries, food, medical aid and other relief.

F. D. R. AID ENDS CANTON STRIKE

125 Go Back to Work On Advice of Presidential Emissary

(By Associated Press)

CANTON, July 20.—As the result of a direct appeal to President Roosevelt, made by officials of the Monarch Rubber Co., at Hartville, near here, 125 striking workers returned to their jobs today.

A. L. Faulkner, commissioner of the United States Department of Labor, who explained orders to investigate the situation at the Monarch plant came directly from the White House, told striking workers the new wage scale proposed by the company was in strict accord with the industrial recovery act. He advised them to return to work.

Appeal to President Roosevelt was made Saturday by Paul Hummelright, general manager, when employees walked out.

The company is working on a 24-hour schedule and has orders ahead to keep the plant at capacity for several months, officials said.

MYERS REFUSES TO TAKE MOSIER APPEAL TO U. S.

Secretary of State Rules Against Drys In Referendum

ANTI-SALOON UNIT COURSE DOUBTFUL

Leader to Determine what Signers of Petitions
Want to Do

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, July 20.—Secretary of State George S. Myers today announced he would not seek an appeal from the state supreme court decision holding Ohio's repeal convention law not subject to a referendum.

The anti-saloon league and its allies, through State Superintendent
S. P. McNaught, had requested Myers to carry to the U. S. supreme court their fight for a referendum on the Mosier law.

Court Grants Injunction

They made the move after the court, on an action of the Ohio repeal council, had granted an injunction to prevent the secretary of state from certifying the drys' petitions for the vote.

The law provides for election of 52 delegates at large November 7, to a convention December 5 to pass on the question of ratification of repeal of the Eighteenth amendment.

In a lengthy statement in which he cited numerous court cases bearing on similar subjects, Myers declined to ask Attorney General John W. Bricker to prepare an appeal, adding:

"If the federal suit on the Mosier
Lawrence act in the supreme court,
we would have no hesitation in saying that there could be no interference by the judicial branch of the state government with the referendum on said act.

"If the subject under consideration were purely a state matter, obviously there could be no interference with or enjoining the power of the people to make or pass upon their own laws.

Cites Virtual Referendum

"However, since a federal function is involved in the Mosier Lawrence act and since under the operation of said act there will be virtually a referendum on the question involved, the secretary of state should not stand in the way of a decision by the people.

"We have, therefore, decided not to request the attorney general to appeal the decision of the Ohio

FIVE PRISONERS ORDERED FREED

Americans Held In Spain
To Be Released
On Bail

PALMA, Mallorca, July 20.—Five American prisoners held here without bail for a month and a half because they allegedly attacked a civil guard, were granted bail today and were ordered released.

Manuel Azana, premier and war minister of Spain, cabled the military authorities here, ordering the immediate release of the Americans. He took this action after a lengthy conference with United States Ambassador Claude G.
Bowers, in Madrid.

It was learned that following his conversation with the premier, Mr.
Bowers immediately visited Foreign Minister De Los Rios in the capital.
The premier's orders were not made public here by the military authorities, but the news came from other sources in Madrid and a large crowd of Americans and Mallorcan gathered about the prison, which formerly was a Capuchin monastery. The crowd was prepared for a rousing celebration when the prisoners were actually set free.

Alliance Business Men Are Optimistic

ALLIANCE July 20.—Alliance manufacturers are confident that the worst is over and that there will be a gradual and general betterment in industrial and economic conditions throughout the country.

Representatives of the city's chief industrial concerns gave short talks at the Rotary club's weekly meeting Wednesday, all indicating that business is on the upturn and looking forward to still greater improvement within the next few months.

W. E. Trump represented the Machined Steel Casting Co., reporting that 160 men are now at work at the plant which is working on a Boulder dam order. Increases in employment at the Transue-Williams Steel Forging company were revealed by Emory Cook while C. J.
Rodman, of the Buckeye Jack company, also reported better business.

Other speakers, all optimistic as to industrial conditions, were Robert Hopkins of the Alliance Brass & Bronze Co.; Alex Robinson of the American Steel Foundries; Otis Wilcox, Alliance Alloy Products; G. W. Shem, Alliance Structural Co. and R. A. Lamont, Supreme Dairy.

Alliance Youth Is Drowned In River

ALLIANCE, July 20.—Ferrell
Cline, 12, was drowned in the Machoning river when an inner tube on which he was floating burst Wednesday afternoon. The boy could not swim.

Following recovery of the body
by William Snyder, 37, police worked more than an hour in attempts to resuscitate the lad.

POLICE ASSERT LUER ABDUCTION IS "CLEANED UP"

Authorities Bag 6 Prisoners In Raid On
Illinois Farm

"YOU'VE GOT ME",
SAYS EX-CONVICT

Small Cave Beneath Tool
Shed Said to Be Banker's Prison

(By Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, July 20.—Solution of the kidnaping for ransom of August Luer, 77-year-old Alton, Ill., banker, was claimed today with the arrest of four men and two women.

Chief of Police Joseph Gerk said the case was "cleaned up" during a raid on the farm home, near Madison, Ill., of Michael and Anna Musiala, and following the admission of Percy Michael Fitzgerald, an ex-convict, that "I'm right for this job, you've got me." Police and department of justice men cooperated in the reputed clean up of the case.

Other prisoners, beside Mr. and Mrs. Musiala and Fitzgerald known as the "Dice Box Kid", are Randall Eugene Norvell, Granite City, Ill., bondsman, and Miss Norma Vaughn, 35, and Frank Douglas, both of East St. Louis.

Identified as Hideout

The Musiala farm was identified by officers as the hideout where the Alton banker was secreted for five days prior to his release Sunday morning on a country road near Madison. A dug-out answering the description of the "foul, damp" prison where Luer said he was held was located on the farm, Detective Sergeant Leonard Murphy of St. Louis, declared.

Immediately after the release of the semi-invalid abduction victim, Carl Luer, his son, declared no ransom was paid. Other rumors said the gang was given $10,000. No further announcement regarding the ransom matter was made today.

The arrest of the "Dice Box Kid", following the identification of his picture by Mrs. August Luer, 75, as one of the men who seized her husband, led to the other developments. Fitzgerald was taken into custody Monday night and yesterday after pleading guilty to a federal charge of using the mails to extort, was placed in jail at Murphysboro, Ill.

SPECULATION

Apprehension concerning inflation is being transferred in many quarters to speculation. Actually, there has been no real inflation worth considering seriously, however great the possibilities of the device may be. But signs of unhealthy speculation are freely in evidence.

It is recalled that Dr. Sprague, exercising the functions of guide for the money program of the government, commented tersely on speculation a few days ago by wishing that gamblers would stick to the race tracks where they can't meddle with matters that affect the economic processes of a nation laboring to emerge from the depression. Perhaps it is Dr. Sprague who is qualified to issue some kind of proclamation on the matter.

Identity of the speculators is the most important feature of the rising problem. They are not predominantly the type which President Roosevelt has excoriated publicly, but of the type which vocally agreed with the President on those occasions. They are the millions of herd speculators whose fleeces usually fall into the hands of the professional manipulators.

They are back with the hope of getting rich quick in a rising market. Apparently, they have learned nothing and forgotten nothing. The ruin of 1929 was unfortunate, but it didn't frighten them. They are ready to take another whirl; their taste for sudden profit has been whetted by the sight of rising quotations.

Unfortunately, they cannot be barred, except by their own judgment. That judgment, obviously, is to the effect that this is a ready-made opportunity for a killing. By what processes the government might be able to change their minds no one knows. The Hoover administration, when it finally became conscious of the proportions of the impending crash, tried to find a way and failed.

The attraction of a rising market is inevitable. It is inevitable, likewise, that there should be profits from improvement. But no one trying to take a long view of recovery wants to admit the inevitability of unbridled speculation which bids up stocks out of all proportion to their real value and sets the stage for a crash. Undue speculation must be stopped.

TIME TO TALK

The world economic conference's single accomplishment, according to Walter Lippman who was on the scene, is the interchange of views it has facilitated. If this be true—and obviously there are no other accomplishments to be considered—it is not improbable that the delegates remaining in London are doing their best work while they await adjournment.

They have been released from the pressure of great expectations. As far as their constituents are concerned, they are marking time in London with nothing further expected of them, except maintenance of reasonably friendly relations. Consequently, if there be any real merit in conversations, they should be saving the world at a prodigious rate. They have plenty of time to talk before the end of the month.

In connection with this possibility, it is interesting to note that Secretary Hull believes the conference is not ending, but merely starting on the long, persistent job of solving international difficulties. Perhaps this is unreasonable optimism. But Mr. Hull may believe that out of so much conversation some good will spring.

ALBANY, Ore.—A record for fast growing tomatoes is claimed by Mrs. Jennie Merritt. Five weeks after she set a tomato plant she picked a ripe tomato.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McINTYRE.

NEW YORK, July 20.—Broadway, like the village has its odd characters whose orbit is bounded on the north by Columbus Circle and south by Herald Square. There is Artie Hitebourn, runner for a Times Square ticket scalper, whose patois is as pure Broadway as a student of native dialect ever encountered. He might have stepped from the page of a Damon Runyon legend of the street. Coxy, the insurance man, is seen where the fight crowds gather. Also Dr. Leo Michel, Rialto physician, at first night. Leo Newman, silver-haired king of ticket brokers, has watched the flow from his cubicle shop 36 years.

Then Dave Levy, the haberdashery clerk, who knows everybody of importance from Max Baer to the ace star, Katharine Cornell. Crying Mary, a hooded Niobe with perfect tear duct control, who stands in the shadows asking alms. But owns four apartment houses in New Jersey.

Earl Carroll's shadow, "The Count," Oompah, the leather-jungled reeve, who says "desd" and "dose," but can quote the poets. Max DuCure, well-plumed Broadway druggist, always with a fresh lappel flower. Sister Edith, the salvationist, who is the image of Ethel Barrymore. And Dixie, the girl taxi charioter.

At 72d street a fellow fiddling for pennies got on and Marrow asked him, amusedly, if he knew the Bach concerto for two violins. The chap did and together they played it, strolling the length of the roaring train, netting 45 cents. They each took two dimes and matched for the odd nickel. Marrow won. This compensated for riding his stop and returning from 125th street.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent's substitute, 25c at drug stores. O. 1931 C. M. Co.

She spoke a name I remembered and said her parents were living in a small town in the southwest. It was a pleasant experience but developed a problem in etiquette. What to do about a tip? After all, her livelihood depended upon such largesse. Yet I felt a diffidence not entirely Scotch. In the end I tucked two one dollar bills under my plate, trusting it would be considered more a gift from her mother's acquaintance. Today the bills were returned with a scribble. "Thanks!" I suppose it all summers down to my being too sloppy to be robbing at large.

DEFLATION AND POLYGAMY

A missionary returning from a three years' stay on the Niger river front near Nigeria in Western Africa reports that the price of wives among natives is now down to 12, an unprecedented low. It seems to be an old tribal custom in the district to have four wives, in keeping with Nigerian standards of living.

The missionary points out that in boom times he had some chance of making headway against polygamy, since a native, one of whose best pals and severest critics had died did some figuring before he decided he could afford to replace her at a cost of about $100. Thus four wives in every hut was a standard not easily maintained, however resolved a man might be to keep pace with his neighbors.

In view of the new quotations, however, the missionary has considerable trouble selling his idea to the natives. While the economic stress has well impressed upon them that they can get along with even one wife—perhaps a rather old one—without giving much serious attention to the new models, doubtless as the upturn sets in on the Niger, they will be more and more inclined to go around shopping again. Whether a stabilization on the price level and a possible reciprocal tariff on wives will make the missionary's job any easier, remains to be seen.

Having bought wives in numbers before the crash, a Nigerian may again do so as recovery grows more definite and chances for increased employment encourage him to revert to his former scale of living. Indeed, the smart and therefore thrifty native may consider the feasibility of getting his wives before they go up—Zanesville Times-Recorder.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

Pneumonia, Also Summer Disease

Pneumonia is a disease which may occur during the summer, as well as the winter months. This disease is often referred to as "captain of the men of death"; it respects neither age nor sex, nor season of the year.

Pneumonia used to be called "inflammation of the lungs" and usually follows a minor cold or some infection of the nose, throat or ears. It is most common during cold days and in changeable weather. But, as I have said, it often occurs during the summer months when there is apt to be greater carelessness about a cold.

It is a good plan never to allow your body to become chilled. If you are harboring the germs of pneumonia, or are exposed to these germs, you are liable when chilled to contract the disease. This warning should be observed particularly by children and elderly persons, who are extremely susceptible to this dreaded disease.

Avoid Chills and Drafts

Chilling of the body lowers the resistance of the body against disease. It leads to irritation and congestion of the lungs, which is the first stage of pneumonia. Such congestion frequently occurs when bathing on cold days, or from lying on the ground or on any cold surface after becoming overheated. It may be traced to carelessness in passing from a warm room to colder air outside without wearing the necessary protective clothing, or it may follow sitting in a draft after exercise.

Of course, one form of pneumonia may be a complication of some infectious disease. This is especially common in children who are underweight and undernourished and are stricken with some childhood infection. For example, it may follow measles, whooping cough or scarlet fever. Acute infectious diseases of children should never be ignored and considered as a "normal event" of childhood.

Pneumonia Is Contagious

Bear in mind that pneumonia is a contagious disease. Persons afflicted with this disease should be isolated and other members of the household kept away from the sick room. It is always a good plan, if possible, to take the afflicted individual to a hospital. Here he will be made comfortable, receive the proper care and attention, and not be a menace to the health of those at home.

Pneumonia is a serious disease. Its oncoming is sudden and often overwhelming. Its prevention is far easier than its cure. Protect against pneumonia at all times of the year. Do not neglect colds and infections. Avoid drafts and, above all, never allow yourself to become chilled.

Pain in the chest, irritating cough and fever are signs that must never be overlooked. Immediate medical attention is essential. Neglect may lead to a serious stage of pneumonia, with a stormy and difficult convalescence.

Answers to Health Queries

L. P. Q.—What causes white spots on the hands, and what will make them less noticeable?

A.—This is usually due to loss of pigment or coloring matter. Send self-addressed, stamped envelope for full particulars and repeat your question.

R. P. Q.—What should a girl of 19, 5 feet 2 inches tall, weigh? 2. How can I gain weight?

A.—She should weigh about 118 pounds. This is about the average weight for one of this age and height as determined by examination of a large number of persons. A few pounds above or below the average is a matter of little or no significance. 2. Eat plenty of good nourishing food, including milk, eggs, fresh fruits and vegetables. Exercise daily in the fresh air. Get plenty of sleep and rest. Take cod liver oil as a general tonic.

ITALY'S GLORY
WAR THREAT
STOCKS SCAREBy Arthur Brisbane
(Copyright, 1933, By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

AS THIS IS WRITTEN, General Balbo with his 24 seaplanes comes roaring down the Hudson river, past the giant sky-scrapers of Manhattan, to his landing place near the ocean's edge.

High among the clouds, stretching far up the river, you see the great airships in groups of three, flying in perfect formation. You know that these ships have flown from Italy to Chicago by a route longer than 6,000 miles, have flown in a few hours from Chicago to New York and will soon fly back to Italy.

What a glory for Italy, what a tribute to the skill and discipline of her flyers. There is no other flying fleet to compare with it. Congratulations to Mussolini, Balbo and the great Italian nation.

IF GENERAL Balbo would take his 24 seaplanes on to Washington, fly around the war and navy buildings, and let as many as can realize that it is possible to send a fleet of ships across the Atlantic to the United States now, he would do this country a favor.

WHEN it is possible to send 24 ships, each of which could carry explosive bombs and poisonous gas in military formation, 6,000 miles, with power to destroy inland cities at the end of the trip, what is the use of talking about any kind of war except war from the air?

Some will remark that General Balbo had to proceed cautiously. Of course he did, in peace time. But in war, instead of 24 planes, 1,000 would be sent and if half or three-quarters of them were wrecked on the way, that would make no difference. There would be enough left. And no one counts the cost in money or life in war.

SOMETHING happened to the alcohol stocks in Wall Street yesterday, and that frightened the whole speculative list. Perhaps "Distillers" dropped because somebody decided that the people would be intelligent enough to drink beer instead of whiskey. Anyhow, there was a scare all along the line, wheat dropping 10 cents, cotton $2, other stocks weak.

The increasing wet vote, with so many states in line and others, wet, soon to be heard from, will evidently end prohibition as the law of the land.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah—Will everybody please peek into their vest pocket and see if "Chicago" is there? "Chicago" is a Chihuahua dog, seven inches long, four inches high and weighing less than one pound. He disappeared when the owner, W. J. Dugan, tourist, fell asleep in his car.

A day of rather routine affairs and interests is forecast from the predominant astral influences. There may be some inspiring activity in literary, advertising, newspaper or publishing occupations, with a profitable connection with those in places of power and prestige.

Those whose birthday it is may find their affairs during the year running in accustomed channels, with a degree of success in financial affairs and some definite progress in those occupations of a literary, publishing or publicity calling.

A child born on this day may be versatile, literary and fairly ambitious and should make a fair name for itself and be popular and friendly.

TO PEOPLE WHO WANT SOMETHING FOR NOTHING

There are some things we refuse to do to sell a car. We like sales, but fair-dealing and the confidence of our customers are desirable, too. For one thing, we refuse to poison anyone's mind against another make of car. We know what our car is and what it will do, and we are ready to tell you about that. But to imply defects in another car is not our business.

We have done our utmost to encourage intelligent buying of motor cars by showing purchasers how to protect their own interests. All that a good producer asks is a customer who knows quality when he sees it. An intelligent purchaser will speedily conclude that only a bad product requires bad sales methods.

We refuse, also, to adopt the role of tricky trader—that is, pretending to offer you a larger trade-in allowance, and taking it away from you in some other way. Ford trade-in values are high, but we do not make fictitious allowances in order to get a sale which may be otherwise disadvantageous to the buyer. Our dealers take used cars upon a system of values, not by haggling or barter.

In this world no one gets something for nothing, although there are many ways of making people think that they do. The sure way to get value for value is, first, by being yourself willing to deal on that basis, and second, by dealing with a concern that has no other policy.

We refuse to keep dinning in your ears that the Ford V-8 is the best, most economical, lowest-priced car. That is claimed for several cars. Obviously it cannot be true of all. There comes a point where claims and adjectives and all advertising hysteria disappears in its own fog. Personally, I prefer facts.

We say the new Ford V-8 is the best car we have made.

We say that our 8-cylinder car is as economical to operate as any lower number of cylinders.

We say that we have always been known as the makers of good cars and that the many good, well-balanced qualities of our present car places it at the head of our line to date.

Anyone wishing to do business with us on these principles will find our word and the quality of our product to be A-1. What we say about economy, operation and durability will stand good anywhere.

erl Kruger, with unshaven face soiled collar, kept his shapeless hat on his head and followed leni at Leni's heels. A number of people were looking at as though he polluted the at-dark red flush was spreading Kruger's forehead. He ground teeth and was silent, as the g fingers bored deep into his gy muscle. Lunska was aware that a tall and agreeable young was somehow giving her a avanaugh bowed slightly and ng away, he moved Karl Krug-around also, compelling him grip so punishing that the man began to weave in anguish.

Douglas Gates took Leni's arm protectively and shepherded her toward an aisle.

"A poor unfortunate I used to friend in Europe," she said hurriedly to Gates. "Think no more about it—I'll speak to him later."

A uniformed usher hurried toward Cavanaugh. "Shall I call an officer to take charge of him, sir?"

"Ask the manager to step here," Cavanaugh said.

The usher who knew the gambler by sight and was impressed, sped off like a shot. Cavanaugh led Kruger up against the wall and relaxed the pressure.

"I don't know who you are, and I don't care," he said quietly. "I'm going to fix it so you can wait in a private office and see Miss Lunska after the show, as she suggested. If you try to grab her big night, I'm going to knock you as cold as a mackerel. Is that perfectly plain?"

Kruger began to rub his arm as the flush faded from his face. Pain had taken some of the brass out of him.

"She'll see me sooner or later," he said sullenly. "I'll wait peacefully."

"That's better," responded Cavanaugh evenly.

The disposition of Kruger was easily arranged when Sol Kaufmann, the manager, arrived round and perspiringly eager to suppress any excitement.

Cavanaugh's explanation and desire in the matter was enough for Kaufmann. The simplest way of handling a situation was always the best. They took Kruger to an office back of the balcony and told him to wait there.

"These foreign stars always have one foot in the mud," said Kaufmann as he came downstairs with Cavanaugh. "Only I wish they wouldn't track it into my theater."

"Too bad Lunska's big night had to be spoiled by that mug," Cavanaugh remarked.

Kaufmann shrugged indifferently. "As soon as an actor gets in the money the chisellers begin to show up. That's Hollywood. These stars all got something they're willing to pay to keep quiet. But don't worry about Lunska—she'll make plenty of dough."

Kaufmann already had erased the incident from his busy mind which was a machine geared to quick adjustment of details and emergencies.

But strangely, a handsome young gambler whose professional creed kept him from dipping into other people's affairs, found himself staring down the aisle that led to Lunska's box, although his ticket called for a seat in another location.

Lucky Cavanaugh, tall and steady-eyed and dressed in a dinner suit, had taken a new and dangerous path. He was dogging the steps of a strange woman. He did not realize it, but he was following the blonde head, the slim beauty and the exciting perfume of Leni Lunska.

He only knew that there was an increased circulation in his blood, and that he was on a quest from which it would not be easy to turn back.

The singers and dancers of the premiere were already on the stage. Light in the aisles were dim. Most of the audience was already settled. There was a buzz of conversation in the air for no one was really interested in the seventy-five girls with their powdered white bodies who filled the stage with their involved dancing.

An usher, smartly uniformed, pursued Cavanaugh down the aisle and stretched out a hand to examine the ticket stub.

The knowledge that anything can be arranged in Hollywood gave Cavanaugh a sensation of nonchalant assurance. A folded bank note passed from his hand to the usher.

"See if you can find me a seat in Lunska's box—like a good pal," he said in a low voice.

In the dim light his smile was pleasant and confidential. The young usher became a conspirator at once.

"Wait here," he said quietly. "I'll see what I can do."

Leni Lunska sat next to the rail in the box, her opera cloak draped over the back of a chair. Her arms, shoulders and back were white and alive in the semi darkness.

Several people of importance sat in the same box, executives from the studio and their wives. To these, the individual Lunska in the flesh was much less interesting than the photographic Lunska, who would presently flash upon the screen.

Long familiarity with screen celebrities creates very little awe. Star and studio are natural enemies. Temperaments and contracts are in perpetual conflict and there is equal ego on each side. It is, as everyone agrees, a crazy business.

The one outsider in the box was Douglas Gates and, at the moment, he was asking Leni to marry him.

"Why don't you promise me tonight?" he whispered. "I don't like to keep persuading you, but I can't like to wait."

His insistence was getting to be a bit of an old story. A man in the neighborhood of fifty is always at a disadvantage with a young and beautiful woman.

Leni freely admitted to herself that Douglas Gates was without a flaw. Solidly wealthy, cultured, a gentleman. A bachelor of inherited background with an authentic standing in the social and business life of the city. Handsome, too, with a moustache after the manner of a European gentleman.

The trouble was that she did not care for him, as women express it, in that way. In all other respects he was the most satisfying person she had ever known.

Within the last few minutes Leni had practically decided to marry him. She leaned her head close to his, and there was something like warmth in the movement.

"Douglas, darling—would you understand me always?" she asked softly. "Would you protect me from the whole world—still love me in all circumstances?"

"Naturally," he responded patiently.

At the single word, uttered so tamely, a little smile that was not mirthful formed on Leni's lips.

"Yes, of course you would," she murmured. "Naturally."

Gates did not press his argument. These skirmishes with Lunska always ended against the stone wall of her silence. At his age a man dreams of love but the conquering zeal of youth is lacking.

Despite his glossed and brushed hair, despite his erect shoulders in their faultless evening coat, Douglas Gates was tired. He had played polo that afternoon. Ten years ago he would have emerged from a cold shower fit to carry on till dawn. Tonight his head felt heavy, his eyes weary.

MARY CARR CURTIS GIRLS

Mrs. Mary Carr Curtis delightfully entertained the Mary Carr Curtis Girls society of the Methodist Episcopal church Tuesday evening at her home, Damascus rd.

Following a picnic supper and business meeting, Mrs. Curtis, who spent some time in mission work in China, gave an interesting and entertaining talk on "Personal Recollections of China and the Chinese People."

In a contest, to determine who could eat the most rice with chopsticks, Miss Leah Fribley carried off the honors and the hostess presented her a remembrance from China.

Mrs. W. H. Matthews, leader of the group, and Miss Jessie Woolman, president for the last year, who will leave next month for Cleveland, to enter the school of nursing of Western Reserve university, were each presented a gift from China by Mrs. Curtis.

Mrs. Hamnell of Cincinnati and Grace Lozier of Salem were guests. The next meeting will be on Aug. 15.

PICNIC SUPPER

Fatality orders of the city, Trestle post No. 19, G. A. R. Woman's Relief corps, Philip Triem camp No. 43, Sons of Union Veterans, and its auxiliary, Mary Ellett tent No. 70, Daughters of Union Veterans, Charles H. Carey post No. 56, American Legion and auxiliary, Allen Reynolds post No. 892, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Gold Star auxiliary, held their annual picnic Wednesday evening at Centennial park.

A supper was followed by an informal social time. There were 30 in the group.

JUST RIGHT CLUB

Members of the Just Right club went to East Palestine Wednesday and were guests of Mrs. G. H. Green, formerly of Salem.

The hostess served dinner at a table prettily decorated in pink and white tones.

Mrs. Bert Prim and Mrs. Frank Coy, Toledo, and Mrs. Fred Oesch, Millville, entertained with vocal selections.

POST HOPS OFF FOR FAIRBANKS

Sets Relentless Pace, Despite Weariness, To Surpass Record

From Rukhlovo and arrival at the jumping-off place was lacking.

His relentless pace, even in the face of almost complete exhaustion, was occasioned by his intense desire to better the mark he made in 1931 with Harold Gatty over much the same route.

He and Gatty were 144 hours, 4 minutes out of New York when they started the trans-oceanic hop from Khabarovsk. Post alone had an elapsed time at that point of only 113 hours and 48 minutes.

Post had seen his advantage whittled down to only 42 minutes because of rain and fog that he encountered on the trip from Moscow to Novosibirsk, Siberia, and later from Irkutsk to Rukhlovo, but he increased it by the fast flight to Khabarovsk and the fact he stayed there so short a time, whereas he and Gatty were grounded at Khabarovsk about a day.

Post left Irkutsk 1,400 miles west of Khabarovsk, at 7 a. m. Moscow time, and arrived at Rukhlovo at 2:32 p. m. Wednesday, Moscow time (6:32 a. m. Salem). Bad weather forced him to turn back—he had planned to continue to Blagoveshensk—and his plane was damaged slightly, before he arrived there.

He left Rukhlovo at 11:25 p. m. Wednesday, Moscow time, (3:25 p. m. Salem) and landed at Khabarovsk at 3:45 a. m. today, Moscow time (7:45 p. m. Wednesday, Salem).

Reports conflicted as to his exact destination in Alaska. None of Fairbanks. It was considered more likely, however, that Fairbanks was his objective.

Shortly before reaching Rukhlovo the Winnie Mae brushed some tree tops, because fog forced him to fly close to the ground, but he made a perfect landing. He was very tired on arrival there, but he decided to forego the much needed rest in favor of gaining time.

Tennessee Voters Ballot On Repeal

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 20.—Tennessee voted its verdict on prohibition today. It was the nineteenth state to declare its will on the proposed prohibition repeal amendment to the federal constitution. The other 18 have voted for repeal.

From repeal headquarters came a statement predicting the action two days ago of Tennessee's sister states, Alabama and Arkansas, the first of traditionally dry deep south to vote against prohibition, would exert a "tremendous influence" for repeal in Tennessee.

The anti-prohibition statement added there was no chance to "stave off repeal in 1933" and forecast a majority in this state for it of at least 50,000.

How to Make Good Coffee

A poor cup of coffee will spoil the finest meal. While, by the same token, a steaming, amber-clear brew of fine, rich flavor and aroma will save or make for many women a reputation as a hostess.

Two Requirements

In order to make good coffee, two requirements are essential. First, coffee must be clear. Second, it must be free from bitterness. The first essential means that the coffee has been poured before it has properly settled or that the coffee was brewed too long and at too high a temperature. As a result, portions of the cellular tissue of the bean are absorbed by the brew and this tends to destroy clarity. The bitterness may be due to over-brewing or to the types of the coffee used in the blend. Bitterness and strength in coffee are not the same. A weak coffee may be frightful bitter, while a strong cup may be absolutely free from any tinge of bitterness. A good mild brand should be just right. And so, given the right blend of fresh good coffees, accuracy in measurements of the water and coffee and care in brewing, good coffee will result to delight the palate, whether it has been made by boiling, steeping, percolating or by the drip method. Of course, the two latter methods are best, inasmuch as they reduce the risk of mistakes.

Crosby's Voice Is Insured for $100,000

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., July 20.—If Bing Crosby, singer, ever loses that peculiar huskiness in his voice, he'll collect $100,000.

Now a movie actor, Crosby said today a growth between his vocal chords affects the tone of his voice. If the growth disappears, or if ever it becomes necessary to have it removed, insurance companies will have to pay.

One of the participating insurance companies confirmed the fact that it wrote a policy, but the amount of the premium was not named.

Search for Victims In Train Accident

BELLEFONTAINE, O., July 20.—The charred wreckage of 24 freight cars was searched today for bodies of several men railroad police said they believed were killed when the Big Four's fastest freight through here was wrecked near Quincy, 15 miles from here.

Nine of the cars were destroyed by fire that resulted when a tank car exploded after it broke loose from the rest of the train and fell on the rails. Twenty other cars were seared by the flames that developed such heat witnesses were unable to approach within 200 feet.

Captain S. R. Scott head of the railroad police, expressed the belief several "floaters" who regularly ride the train died in the wreckage and fire. Other officials said the train frequently carried as many as twenty "floaters."

a pal of the former, in a burglary case. Douglass also has been detained for questioning. The investigators asserted they had definite information that Norvell was with the kidnapers in the vicinity of the Luer home the night the banker was seized.

From Norvell's home the police went to East St. Louis, Ill., where they arrested Miss Vaughn. They said they found a flowered dress in the apartment similar to that which Mrs. Luer said was worn by the women who accompanied the kidnapers at the seizure.

After Miss Vaughn's detention the officers motored to the Masiala farm.

There they declared, they found Luer's prison, a small cave beneath a tool shed. A pile of fresh clay nearby led the investigators to believe the hideout was dug for the express purpose of holding the prisoner.

A tunnel leads to a section about three and a half feet high, three feet wide and seven feet long. Luer described his prison as being approximately this size.

"Private Jones", With Lee Tracy, At State Tonight; Double Bill Coming

FIRST movie of its type, "Strictly Personal", drama which plays upon the theme of the "get acquainted club", is coming to the State theatre Friday for a two-day run along with "Under the Tonto Rim", a Zane Grey western.

Eddie Quillan Returns

The former film marks the return of Eddie Quillan, one of the finest young actors ever to walk across the screen but for some reason or other never seemed to "click" just right. The cast is a good one, for besides Quillan there are Dorothy Jordan, Marjorie Rambeau (last seen here in "The Warrior's Husband") Edward Ellis, Louis Calhern, Hugh Herbert and Dorothy Burgess.

The Romeo and Juliet clubs have inspired numerous ironic wisecracks but they have never before inspired the theme for a motion picture. Action of "Strictly Personal" centers around a couple who run such an enterprise—an escaped convict, who has had his face remodeled by a surgeon and his career remodeled by his own desire to go straight and a kind and loving wife.

Proprietor Recognized
These two, aided by a young girl who is their ward, conduct an orderly club. When a "confidence man" recognizes the proprietor however and muscles his way into a partnership by threatening to expose him, the whole scene changes rapidly.

The story is full of suspense and excitement but it also has its lighter moments and these are especially good.

THE second part of the program is the western and it has as its star, Stuart Erwin. That is enough to guarantee good entertainment. Others in the cast are Fred Kohler, Verna Hillie, Raymond Hatton and George Barbier.

The story is one of a cowhand who just couldn't do anything right who suddenly is mistaken for a dangerous bandit.

"PRIVATE JONES" who is enacted by that popular star of today—Lee Tracy—will be seen for the last times this evening at the State. Tracy is supported by an exceptionally good cast including Gloria Stuart, Donald Cook, Frank McHugh, Walter Catlett, Al Hill, Emma Dunn, Russell Gleason and Shirley Grey.

Ohio Bell Wins In Cradle Phone Fight

COLUMBUS, July 20—The fight to remove the extra charge for cradle type telephones in Ohio is settled so far as the state utilities commission is concerned.

Rejecting the application of the city of Cleveland, the commission refused to order the Ohio Bell Telephone company to cease collecting 25 cents extra each month for the one-piece instrument.

In a previous order, the commission authorized the company to continue the charge provided it is not collected for more than three years on any one telephone. The city of Cleveland also was turned down in its application for a refund of extra levies collected since the earlier order was issued.

supreme court to the supreme court of the United States.

McNaught said "this virtually ends the Moser case in the state supreme court."

"We have no authority to carry the case to the U. S. supreme court," he added, "although we could ask a rehearing in the Ohio supreme court. I doubt, however, if that would do any good."

He said three courses were open to the drys:

1. File an injunction suit in common pleas court seeking to prevent the election.

2. Refuse to select delegates, letting the election go by default.

3. Begin circulating petitions to nominate their own candidates as delegates to the repeal convention.

"After all, however," McNaught said, "we are acting only as representatives of the people and we will have to find out what the people who signed the referendum petitions want to do now."

He said a meeting of the Ohio prohibition emergency council probably will be called for next week to decide finally on any action the organized prohibitionists are take as a result of the new turn of events.

TELLS HOW SHE TOOK 4 IN. OFF HIPS 7 IN. OFF WAIST

In 40 days by taking Kruschen Salts, Mrs. Helga Blaugh of New York City reduced 26½ lbs.—took 4 inches off hips, 3 inches off bust and 7½ inches off waist. She writes: "I haven't gone hungry a moment—I feel fine and look 10 years younger."

To get rid of double chins, bulging hips, ugly rolls of fat on waist and upper arms SAFELY and without discomfort—at the same time build up glorious health and acquire a clear skin, bright eyes, energy and vivaciousness to look younger and feel it—take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast.

One jar lasts 4 weeks and costs but a trifle at J. H. Lease Drug Co., Broadway Lease Drug Store or any druggist the world over. Make sure you get Kruschen because it's SAFE. Money back if not joyfully satisfied. Adv.

THE DAY IN SPORTS

FOUR STARTING PITCHERS
DREAM OF MANAGERS

FOUR STAR pitchers able to take their regular turn in the box is the dream of every manager of a ball club. Even three consistent winners are enough to land a pennant as witness Connie Mack's Athletics with Grove, Earnshaw and Walberg on the firing line two years ago, or the Braves of 1914 with James, Ruppel and Tyler.

Stumps are of short duration when a manager has four great pitchers going good. One of them is sure to turn in a game so good that no slump can last long. Witness the recent slump of the N. Y. Giants who received six beautifully pitched games in a row but lost them all through poor fielding. The slump ended when Hal Schumacher pitched a shut-out.

Trouble looms when the first stringers go haywire, necessitating a heavy demand on relief men and constant juggling of the pitching staff. Joe McCarthy, manager of the Yankees, will bear testimony on this point for his staff suddenly went into a slump and before he could get it straightened out again the team had taken a nose dive from a long lead into second place.

ONE REASON for the plethora of anemic batting averages this season may be found in the number of consistent pitching staffs. More teams have steady throwers than have appeared in years.

Look at these first stringers of major club staffs and then note how closely the rise or fall of the teams rests on the dependability of the fingers. The Athletics, for instance, would be much higher in the standings, if Earnshaw and Walberg and Mahaffey were displaying their former skill.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

GIANTS: Hubbell, Fitzsimmons, Parmelee, Schumacher. (Keeping a mediocre team on top).

CUBS: Warnecke, Tinning, Root, Bush. (Team clicking since these boys started winning consistently).

CARDS: Hallahan, Dean, Carleton, Walker. (Would be higher if Walker were holding up his end).

BRVES: Cantwell, Brandt, Zachary, Brown and Betts. (Only first two consistently great).

PIRATES: Swetonic, Swift, Chaggon, Meine. (This bunch needs juggling).

DODGERS: Carroll, Mungo, Beck and Bengt. (Not consistent. If they were, the team would be much higher in the race).

REDS: Lucas, Johnson, Rixey, Kolp, Benton. (Plenty of shifting needed here).

PHILS: Hansen, Elliott, Rhem and a lot of m'sits. (Think what this slugging outfit could do with the Cubs, Cards or Giants pitchers).

AMERICAN LEAGUE

SENATORS: Crowder, Whitehill, Stewart, Weaver, Russell. (Going great).

YANKS: Gomez, Allen, Van Atta, Ruffing. (Spotty. Have needed plenty of help).

ATHLETICS: Grove, Earnshaw, Mahaffey, Walberg, Freitas. (Only Grove has been consistent).

CLEVELAND: Ferrell, Hildebrand, Hudlin, Brown. (Team goes as they do).

TIGERS: Bridges, Rowe, Sorrell, Frasier. (A consistent bunch worthy of a better team. They lose a lot of well pitched games).

RED SOX: Welland, Pipgras, Johnson, Andrews, Rhodes, Brown. (Good but spotty).

WHITE SOX: Lyons, Miller, Durham, Gregory, Jones. (In and outers).

BROWNS: Hebert, Blacholder, Wells, Hadley, McDonald. (Fairly consistent but have no help either from team or relief pitching).

And speaking of pitchers, "Red" McConnell certainly had a lot to do with winning the second round title for the Salem Hardware in the Class A softball league. After a mediocre first round showing in which the team was never a pennant contender, the Hardware signed McConnell, made other changes in the lineup and is now the champion.

The Calkins Chicks have two good hurlers in George McFeely and Wayne Russell with the formerly slightly the more reliable, Earl McNamee is still among the league's best and may pull the Mullins Foremen's club out of its present rut. And just what a pitcher means to a team certainly is proven in the Famous Dairy team which has lost Dale Ritchie, star hurler, and now is just another ball club. Cliff Heron's a good twirler but the team needs a super-pitcher to get by.

Lee Christen, Al Sanders and Harold England are the slabs for the American Legion while Schaffer does the twirling for Jesse Schaffer's Billiards. Harry Vincent is more than capable but doesn't get such good support from the Salem China. The same situation exists with the Deming company which has "Ducky" Bard as a twirler, Ralph Gregg's the United Cigars' ace slabs.

Something for county moguls to think about—why not a baseball league next year? . . . Salem, Leontia, Columbiana, East Palestine and East Liverpool have teams that would enter . . . and, if you must, a softball circuit might also be organized . . . but let's concentrate on the hardball loop . . . it might even be expanded to include other teams, including Alliance, Sebring, Lake Placid and others . . .

SENATORS AGAIN TIE FOR FIRST; INDIANS WIN, 8-7

Pittsburgh, N. York Split
Even In Heated Twin
Bill Yesterday

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
New York's two league-leading ball clubs, the Giants and the Yankees, are having real battles on their hands but in yesterday's round at least they were of entirely different varieties.

Chisox Trim Yanks
While the Yanks were being shoved back into a tie with the Senators through an 8-4 defeat by the White Sox and the Senators were nosing out the St. Louis Browns, 8-7, the Giants very nearly went into fisticuffs with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

A disputed decision in the fourth inning of the opener, when even the umpires failed to agree, caused an argument that just stopped short of a riot and delayed the game 15 minutes.

The question was whether Freddy Lindstrom had caught Fred Fitzsimmons' liner or not. Umpire Barr first ruled it an out, then after a consultation with Moran, at third, decided it was a hit and Gus Mancuso had scored the first run of the game.

Both teams joined in the dispute and the police were kept busy for a while restraining the throng of 22,000. When things calmed down, the Bucs went on to win 4-1. The Giants opened up early in the second clash and won 7-3.

Ruth Muffs Fly
The Yankees' troubles all came in the seventh inning as the pale hose got started after Babe Ruth muffed an easy fly and walloped Walter Brown and Wiley Moore for seven runs. The defeat ended the Yanks' nine game winning streak.

St. Lou's, under the guidance of Al Solthorn after Bill Killefer's resignation as manager yesterday, came from behind to tie the score against Washington but succumbed to a three-hit, two run rally in the eighth.

The Indians had to go 13 innings to beat the Red Sox 8-7, scoring the winning run on an error by Bob Seeds at first base. Detroit split a doubleheader with the Philadelphia Athletics. The A's won the opener 7-3. Then the Tigers hammered out 18 hits and a 10-5 victory in the second.

The humble Cincinnati Reds shoved Brooklyn into seventh place in the National league by edging out a 6 to 5 victory. The Phillies, St. Louis Boston and Chicago Nationals, had an open date.

Lee Christen, Al Sanders and Harold England are the slabs for the American Legion while Schaffer does the twirling for Jesse Schaffer's Billiards. Harry Vincent is more than capable but doesn't get such good support from the Salem China. The same situation exists with the Deming company which has "Ducky" Bard as a twirler, Ralph Gregg's the United Cigars' ace slabs.

Something for county moguls to think about—why not a baseball league next year? . . . Salem, Leontia, Columbiana, East Palestine and East Liverpool have teams that would enter . . . and, if you must, a softball circuit might also be organized . . . but let's concentrate on the hardball loop . . . it might even be expanded to include other teams, including Alliance, Sebring, Lake Placid and others . . .

And speaking of pitchers, "Red" McConnell certainly had a lot to do with winning the second round title for the Salem Hardware in the Class A softball league. After a mediocre first round showing in which the team was never a pennant contender, the Hardware signed McConnell, made other changes in the lineup and is now the champion.

The Calkins Chicks have two good hurlers in George McFeely and Wayne Russell with the formerly slightly the more reliable, Earl McNamee is still among the league's best and may pull the Mullins Foremen's club out of its present rut. And just what a pitcher means to a team certainly is proven in the Famous Dairy team which has lost Dale Ritchie, star hurler, and now is just another ball club. Cliff Heron's a good twirler but the team needs a super-pitcher to get by.
